IN MEMORY OF MRS. BELLE JONES

When the spirit of this estimable, Christian lady took its flight Tuesday morning the 19th inst., there was removed from the social walls of life a pure and spotless woman, one who was loved by a large circle of friends, and worshipped by four loving children and a devoted husband.

Born and reared in Columbia, testimony upon testimony could be given of her pure life here.

After her marriage to Mr. G. E. Jones she became a resident of Gainesville, where she lived happily surrounded for more than twenty-five years.

She was a long sufferer, but no word of complaint ever fell from her lips. Born of Christian parents, H. G. and Eliza Atkins, she was taught to believe that God did all things for the best, and while her body was sorely afflicted she never lost faith in the Giver of all that is good, looking to Him for a brighter and peaceful home beyond the skies. As an evidence of her goodness the rearing of four high-minded, dutiful children is the best earthly evidence that she was diligent in her admonitions for God. It is said that she never received an angry word from one of them, and their conduct has been such as to require no words of reproof from her.

When friends separate, one going on a long journey, with the hope of meeting again, the skimming of the hand is a serious thing and the word "farewell" hard to say, but to take leave of a dear mother through the leaves of death that her spirit has gone to a better world, no pen can picture the anguish. No sadder words were ever written than "mother is dead," and it would take hearts of stone to not overflow with sorrow when such an affliction comes to their family.

The devotion of the bereaved husband and his four children to this wife and mother has never been surpassed, so watchful were they to see that every earthly wish was gratified.

Her children are all members of the church, and while it is impossible for them to ever see their mother again, the flesh, they can so live that when life's troubles are over they can meet her in that heavenly home where there is no sorrow and where separations are unknown.

The funeral services were conducted at Jamestown Wednesday afternoon, by Eld. Z. T. Williams, of the Christian church, who spoke in the tenderest sympathy of the life and character of this good woman.

In health she was an active church and temperance worker, being a devoted Methodist and a zealous member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

To the husband, a life long friend, to the children, brothers and sisters, I tender my deepest sympathy.

J. E. McNEILL.

Women Soldiers.

Mrs. Mary Sawyer, who now lives at Sawyer's Springs, on Walden's Ridge, a short distance from Chattanooga, Tenn., has been a most remarkable woman in business as well as the social life of Rhea county, Tenn., where she was born and reared, and has an interesting history. During the war Mrs. Sawyer raised and equipped a company of young girls, which was mustered into the Confederate army. Mrs. Sawyer was Miss Mary McDonald, of Ross county. She was, at the outbreak of the war, a young woman, in her teens, and the belle of Rhea county. As the Federal forces began encroaching Southward the original idea entered the mind of Miss McDonald to raise a company of young girls for the Confederacy. This was in 1862, and she lost no time in carrying this idea into practical effect, organizing a company of something over 100 girls. She was elected Captain of the company which was actually mustered into the service at Washington, Rhea county, Tenn., by Capt. W. T. Darwin, of General Bragg's army.

Most of the young women realized that the company was organized more as a bit of pastime, but Capt. McDonald's foresight had long before seen that such a body could be of practical value, and so soon were they mustered in than she began putting them through such drills, teaching how to dress wounds, and was just beginning to receive equipment from the Confederacy, the use of which she was setting about to teach her company, when the Federals entered Chattanooga.

Gen. Steadman sent a certain Capt. Wild up to Rhea county, who very gallantly arrested the entire company, including the Captain, and brought them to Chattanooga. Where they were arranged before Gen. Steadman in his headquarters in which is now the local guard's armory. Here the young women were requested to take the oath of allegiance to the Federal Government. Some of them were a trifle unruly, and Gen. Steadman was given more than one sample of Rhea county "sass," but when he finally threatened to send the entire company to Ohio the girls, urged by anxious relatives, all took the oath, and after dinner at the old Planter's House, returned to their homes.

A number of women now residing in Chattanooga were members and officers in this company, and entertain pleasant recollections of the time when the girls of Rhea county started to turn the tide of the war in favor of the Confederacy.

Remember This.

A newspaper in any town may expend all of its efforts, its time, its space and interest in the attempt to upbraid the town, but unless its efforts are backed by the business men of the town its work may be counted as high useless.

When a stranger picks up your town paper he will glance for a moment over your news column and then turn to the advertising pages. If he finds no columns here, he sets it down that there is nothing in the town of which its citizens do not appreciate the efforts of the paper and that they are just as liable to not appreciate his own efforts were to be located there.

You never saw a town yet that ever amounted to a hill of beans without the assistance of a newspaper. This being a fact we would also remind you that a newspaper cannot live without the assistance of the town.

The sooner business men find that in supporting their local paper they are also building up their own business, for the business man and the newspaper, and the town. In supporting your local paper you are not only assisting your town as a business center, but your newspaper as an enterprise and as a medium to the outside world, but your own business as well. It is as much the duty of the business man to support his town paper as it is for the town paper to support and expand the interest of his town.—New Haven Leader.

Mr. J. Richardson had a running sore on his leg for twenty years. Tried doctors and medicines without end, or any permanent good. Mr. L. B. Nunnally, druggist, Hartford, Iowa, recommended Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron to cure the cause of the sore and make it heal from the leg. A few boxes cured his leg, and he has been better health than he has been in for 20 years. Ask your druggist.

Six Months Pork.

It is a common practice for men who know their business and do it to grow six months pigs to weigh 200 pounds a piece, and sell them at a better price per pound than if older. Pigs make fat and flesh at less cost during the first six months of their lives than ever after. Up to six months pigs rightly fed can almost be seen to grow from day to day.

When the young pigs are old enough they should be allowed the run of a pasture field where clover is pretty thick. Turn them loose in the field with the sow. If the field has plenty of good, fresh running water in it, and ample shade for the animals, they will do much better and not suffer drawbacks from the heat. The sow should be fed freely on milk sops with bran mixed in it, and when the pigs are old along with the bran and buttermilk. The liberal feeding of clover keeps the system in excellent condition.

At the end of four months the pigs should be old enough to stand heavier and more headlighted, and it is well to substitute for the corn, bran and milk sops a diet of bran and cornmeal softened with water and mixed to the stiffness of a dough. Feed this to them twice a day and give them as much as they will eat upon at a time. Then turn them loose in the clover field as before, and let them eat in addition all the grass that they will. Finally, during the last month of their lives confine them in close but perfectly clean quarters and fatten them off with cornmeal and bran. Give them twice as much of the former as the latter, and let them eat liberally of the mixture. At the end of the six months they should be fine, fat pigs, weighing from 200 to 240 pounds each, and every pound will represent a good profit.

Poultry Tips.

Watch for hen lice on chicks—oil or grease the hen.

Never nail a roost down. Make it as easy as possible to lift up.

Be ready for striped combs. If the combs are fitted apply vasoline at once.

Paint the under side of the roosts with oil or other fat. Smear it on. The mites can stand it.

We want to hear from parties who have fed oats in large quantities to hens. Ever know a death from this cause?

The so-called Douglas mixture for hens is a small quantity of sulphate of iron dissolved in the drinking water. Some poultrymen believe that rusty nails are just as good.

The National Provisioner is commending the various performances of the poultry tribe, gives the following: An old hen knocked a youngster down in the road in defence of her brood, it's father killed the miscreant, the owner burned his barn and horses, and a lynching mob was organized.

The old theory was that exercise was necessary for hens. Thus we were advised to throw the whole grain into the straw and make the hens scratch for it. People seem to think this theory was true because it ought to be. Experiments at the Utah experiment station show that the hens did rather better without this exercise.—Ex.

A Fireman's Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bell, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I took a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as ever in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, vigor and strength from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by T. E. Penill. Price 50c.

THREE GREAT SPEECHES.

Extracts from Bryan, Altgeld and Towne at the Columbus Banquet.

BYRON O. JEFFERSON.

"At this time, when the money changes are in absolute control of the Government and are shaping the nation's financial policy in their own interests, without regard for the welfare of the people at large, we need to recall Jefferson's scathing arraignment of those who demand the surrender of their hands of the sovereign functions of government."

He pointed out that the safety of the people lay in a policy that would drive the banks out of the governing business.

"At this time, when corporate monopoly is fast extinguishing individual independence, we need a revival of the Jeffersonian spirit which demands a government administered according to the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privilege to none."

"At this time, when commercialism is tearing the conscience of the nation; when the worship of mammon is leading the people to ignore inalienable rights; when the ideals bought with blood and sacrifice are about to be bartered away for the specious and delusive promises of ease and this time, I repeat, we need to have our faith in man as man and our love for man as brother rekindled by the memory of this mighty patriot, philosopher and Democrat, whose brain comprehended height and depth and breadth of government and whose heart embraced the human race."

Attitude of the modern.

political conception of either party, and see the hungry, self-seeking, trimming politicians that rather than some of them had indeed been in high office for many years. Look at their bleared eyes, their shriveled, wrinkled lips, their souls—what for they are still around through the political underbrush, and you will say to yourself, these men have thrown away their inheritance."

"Let me say here, my friends, if we never do anything more, we did the country a service in 1906 by bringing the Democratic party up out of the swamps and underbrush and taking a position in the sunlight on the highlands."

Word Painting.

The following from the La Grange Graphic is one of the prettiest sermons ever printed in so few words: "I saw a dancing bubble upon the silvery surface of a restless river. For a moment it sparkled with golden light as it caught and held the sunshine glory, and I thought how beautiful it was. Then it went down. For a moment the river told where it had vanished, and then swept on without even a ripple on its placid bosom. And I thought how like our lives was the bubble on the river. For a moment we sparkle in our tiny spheres, hope and toil and struggle, love and long and dream and then go down beneath the surface of ever. In a short time the tiny ripples we have caused die out, and the great river of humanity flows on undisturbed. So let us strive within our brief existence to reflect only the sunshine, in the clouds above us."

TOWNE ON LINCOLN.

"Three marks the life of the republic. The first involved the origin of the Union and embraced the revolution and the era of uncertainty ending with the adoption of the Federal Constitution. This was the age of Jefferson, of Washington, of Adams, of Hamilton and their co-defenders. The second involved the integrity of the Union and the preservation of cementation of the national life. This was the age of Lincoln. The third is now upon us, and it constitutes the supreme test of all. It is to decide whether this republic, strong enough to defy all external enemies, and nurtured by the solidarity of national feeling and purpose, can now resist the disintegrating influences of conquest before all preceding great nations in history have failed to the dust."

"This, fellow Democrats, is then the duty of the hour—to save the faith of our fathers, and with it the life of the republic, and to defend the mission of the world. We are the true conservatives. We stand upon the ancient ways. We wrap ourselves in the glowing ensign of the republic, blazoned with the legends of the Declaration of Independence and the guarantees of the constitution, invoking the benign shades of the heroes of our history, and pleading the sacred trusts which have been transmitted to us by the fathers and the fathers of the fathers."

His favorite present to a parent is a coffin.

Danger of Colds and Lagrippe.

The greatest danger from colds and lagrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of lagrippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by M. Craven, who guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for lagrippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

That decision of United States Circuit Court, of the Republicans, is a blow to the Democrats, a sweet morsel.

National greed-plundering and killing a weaker people, has brought sorrow to many American hearts and yet it proceeds.

The Patriots of 1776, of 1812 would weep over the attitude of the present administration if they could realize present conditions.

Some more scandals of the Administration were exposed in the House last Thursday. It was shown, and not denied, that some employees were filling out position and drawing pay for another.

Chief Justice Payton, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, rendered a decision last Thursday, upholding the validity of the habitual criminal act, which imparts a life sentence on any person convicted of a felony for the third time.

The Republican candidates for county office are shaking the bushes in Russell county. The primary is the 6th of April and there are many aspirants. From what we learn there is no real bitterness, though in the County Judge's race there is seemingly a little unpleasantness.

Some publications are criticizing the "Commoner," and yet the quill-drivers of these sheets could not write an interesting article on the "Great blessings of McKinleyism" or even the "daring exploits of their Teddy."

The love of adventure, the hope of reward and the mania for seeing the world prompts many a noble youth to leave his home and join the army. Then he is only a tool, compelled often to do that which he honestly believes to be wrong, to fight and butcher a weaker people without stopping for liberty.

The U. S. Circuit Court reversed decision of the Federal Court in this State in the Lackey Election case. Last year when the Republicans were making such a howl about partisan courts and denouncing the Democratic party for the actions of some Judges of the Circuit Courts in this State, they were seeking to bring about the punishment of every Democrat who openly resisted their aggressive methods, and by this means profit in the election last fall. Accordingly, an indictment was found in the Federal Court against O. E. Lackey, of Middleboro, for bribing negroes, colored men, men of African descent and not white men from voting in the State election in 1890. Mr. Lackey was arraigned before that bundle of purity—Judge Evans—and was convicted on the foregoing charge: "A violation of the 15th amendment to the Constitution," as they claimed. He was fined $10,000 and an imprisonment of several months also applied. Others were tried for similar offenses and convicted. At this juncture Democrats were informed throughout the State to stand off from the colored man in the scramble for votes and it did prevent Democrats from interfering with the afore-said voters. Now one of the highest Courts in the land decides that Lackey did not violate the 15th amendment and orders his immediate discharge. There is not a doubt about the correctness of this decision, for no one seeks to control, by money or otherwise, the suffrage of any voter on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. Money is presented to a voter because the voter places his suffrage on the market, and the Higher Court decides virtually that it is no greater sin for a Democrat to buy a vote than it is for a Republican. This decision eliminates all fear with Democrats for Federal prisons, and places them on equal footing with Republicans who buy the votes of colored people with impunity. It is no less crime to buy a white voter than it is to buy a colored voter, yet Republican purifiers attempted in this State to prosecute, and did prosecute Democrats for giving a negro a $5.00 bill to stay away from the polls and at the same time make no complaint when a white man received the tempting cash for his vote. This decision will cripple the expectations of a few Republican politicians in this State who sought to place a large per cent. of their floating element beyond the reach of Democrats—to hide them behind the 15th amendment of the Constitution and then enter the race in the scramble for supremacy with the white floaters. All floaters float alike, race, color or previous condition of servitude counts no figure, and if a man offers his vote for sale a Democrat commits no greater sin by buying than a Republican would commit.

In actual work accomplished the Fifty-sixth Congress now about to close has an exceptionally large record. Aside from the Porto Rican and Hawaiian acts this Congress has passed a financial law establishing a permanent gold reserve of about $150,000,000, fixing the ratio between gold and silver, and reorganizing the bonding and the banking systems of the Treasury; reorganizing the United States army—a task of 100,000 men, reappointing the representation in Congress on the basis of the twelfth census, giving "free homes" on the Indian lands, providing for Government participation in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904, as well as many other measures of wide general importance.

Developments in the Chinese situation were rapid and important last Thursday. The Chinese Government issued an edict directing the infliction of the penalties demanded by the Powers. This edict, if made in good faith, will obviate the necessity of Field Marshal Von Waldersee's expedition, which had failed to obtain the sanction of several of the strongest Powers.

The Senate Committee on Military Affairs reported favorably last Thursday a bill to pay Confederate soldiers for horses taken from them by the Federal soldiers after the surrender at Appomattox. It is estimated that the claims amount to $200,000, $40,000 would go to citizens of Kentucky.

W. L. Grady will attend the stock sales at Danville next month and will offer for sale one or two fine stallions.

J. A. Diddle has purchased several hundred trees near Sparksville. He intends to ship much lumber this year.

S. D. Caldwell and wife, of Portland, celebrated on the night of the 23rd, it being the 19th anniversary of their daughter Miss Carrie. The evening will long be remembered by all that were there.

Died, on the 24th, the wife of Thos. Moss with pneumonia, in her 32nd year. She was a good woman, a loving mother and a devoted wife. She leaves a husband and three children with four sisters and one brother and the entire community to sympathize with them in their sad bereavement. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. L. Hulise and the remains interred in the family burial ground.

NOTICE.

I will on the first Monday of March, 1901, and each day for thirty days thereafter at the storehouse of G. B. Breeding, at Breeding, Adair county, Ky., sit to receive claims against the estate of G. B. Breeding, assignor for the use and benefit of his creditors, and all creditors will file their claims before me at said time and place verified as required by law, in such cases. This February 16, 1901. A. O. BAKER, Assignee of G. B. Breeding.

JAMESTOWN.

Circuit Court is likely to close Wednesday.

A great many indictments have been returned.

A. R. Humble, of Somerset, was in Jamestown several days of last week.

Miss Rosa Hays, who was taken sick at the residence of her brother-in-law, Judge W. S. Stone, two months ago is not yet able to return to her home.

The general health of Judge Joseph E. Hays is good. He has not attempted to practice law for several years, giving as the reason in his recollection is very faint. For forty five years he was a continuous lawyer, not only at this, but in all the courts in this section of the State.

The law officers will hold a primary election on the 1st of April for the purpose of selecting candidates for the county offices. There are thirty society aspirants now in the field.

Danger of Colds and Lagrippe.

The greatest danger from colds and lagrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or a cough in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by M. Craven, who guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for lagrippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

PURDY.

Mr. Charles Shepherd was married to Miss Mary E. Burton, of this place, last Sunday morning. Several of their friends were present.

Mr. E. W. Burton, was in Russell county last week.

Brother Wash Grider will commence a protracted meeting here the second Saturday in next month.

Miss Lora Burton is visiting her grandmother, Beth Bryant, this week.

Had to Conquer or Die.

"I was just about done," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C. "I had Consumption so bad the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now stout and well." It is an unrivaled life-saver in Consumption, Rheumatism, La Grippe and Bronchitis; infallible for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup or Whooping Cough. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Paul's Drugstore.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1790. The result has been as follows:

1790.....1,329,881
1800.....3,929,211
1810.....5,328,222
1820.....9,637,482
1830.....15,236,121
1840.....24,024,890
1850.....39,811,761
1860.....55,552,799

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year. The Weekly Enquirer is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

To the first named correct guess received.....$2,000.00
To the second.....1,500.00
To the third.....1,000.00
To the fourth.....750.00
To the fifth.....500.00
To the sixth.....250.00
To the seventh.....100.00
To the eighth.....50.00
To the ninth.....25.00
To the tenth.....10.00
To the eleventh.....5.00
To the twelfth.....2.50
To the thirteenth.....1.25
To the fourteenth......625
To the fifteenth......3125
To the sixteenth......15625
To the seventeenth......78125
To the eighteenth......390625
To the nineteenth......1953125
To the twentieth......9765625
2197 cash presents amounting to $25,000.00.

In case of a tie, money equally divided.

Every guess on the above proposition must be accompanied by a year's subscription to the Weekly Enquirer.

You can guess as often as you care to include subscription price to the Weekly Enquirer.

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

The greatest builders' supply house south of the Ohio river, with railroad switch entering our warehouse. We carry a full and well assorted stock of

SASH, DOORS, BLINDS, MOULDINGS.

New York Fashions.

All black hats are improved by a tiny touch of color.

Bands of stitched cloth trim the skirt and bodice of gowns.

An ultra fast just now is that of writing with white ink upon bright blue paper.

White silk bodices, prettily tucked, have fancy striped ribbon collar, cuffs and girdle.

Dainty vests are made of chiffon gauze and net with small bands of silk stitched in at intervals.

Waist decorations are made by joining strands of braid by a lace stitch and alternating them with narrow ribbons put together with a lace stitch.

Crope de chine is one of the prettiest and most fashionable of all materials for a bride maid's gown.

Zibeline cloth is very stylish. One gown of this fabric, shown by the dealers, is of delicate gray, with white broadtail vest enriched by gold threaded guipure. Gray and gold galleon decorate the skirt. Veiling and cashmere in pale tints make pretty gowns.

Young girls favor polkadotted Louisine silk.

A beautiful wide collar is of the finest linen lawn, hand-embroidered about the edges. It is almost deep enough to touch the elbows.

Most beautiful is a sort of white chiffon finished on all the edges with sable fur. A bunch of violets adorns the muff, and another, if desired, be coquishly attached to the bow.

A bunch of good tissue roses will enhance the chic of a rich black hat.

Athletic girls like the raglan shirt waist. EVERLYN CARLE.

Falls Dead Across Husband's Grave.

Mrs. Sarah Krugman, of Brooklyn, met death recently where she often prayed that she might, falling dead across the grave of her husband in Mount Nebot Cemetery.

Mrs. Krugman, who was 52 years old, had been in the habit of paying a weekly visit to the grave of her husband, who died a year and a half ago.

"Heartbroken and ill, she had frequently remarked to whatever member of her family accompanied her on these occasions:

"If I would only fall dead on his grave, how happy I should be!"

Mrs. Krugman went to the cemetery with two of her married daughters, Mrs. Ida Gragold of Allentown, N. J., and Mrs. Jeanette Kenney of Brooklyn. As they entered the gate, Mrs. Krugman remarked:

"I hope my prayer will come true to-day."

While the daughters were placing flowers upon their grave their mother knelt in prayer. Several minutes later they heard her say: "Lord, take me to-day from this earth to him in whose grave I buried my heart months ago."

Slowly rising to her feet, the heartbroken woman then kissed her weeping children, and placing her arms about them, said:

"I feel that my prayer is about to be answered. I am being overcome by a strange feeling, and my strength is going."

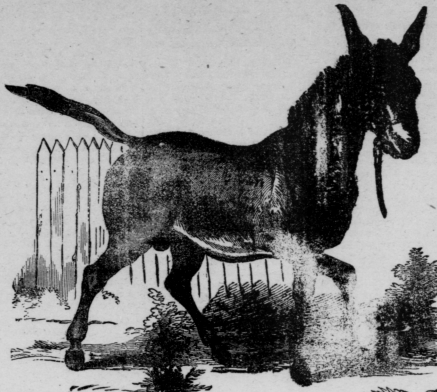

Hardly had the words passed her lips when she fell dead across the mound. For half an hour the two daughters went over their mother's body, and then strangers, passing the plot, summoned the superintendent, who removed the body to the cemetery office.

The census of 1900 shows that only two classes of American cities have made special progress—those on the inland lakes and those possessing great and diversified manufacturing enterprises. The river cities are growing more slowly; the coast cities south of Norfolk are making little progress; but between that point and Portland, Me., they are attracting large populations. The railroad cities, especially those of comparatively high altitudes, are also showing considerable progress.

Working Overtime.

Eight-hour laws are ignored by those tireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always working, night and day, curing indigestion, biliousness, constipation, sick headache and all stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe. Only 25c at Paul's drugstore.

What is a Sucker?

A sucker is a fish, is not worth the little worm that it takes to catch him, but a human sucker is generally caught on an empty hook and hooked by the gills, too.

A sucker is a hoodoo, who buys packages of soap with $10 bills in them for $5.

A sucker is a man who signs a receipt for a car-load of grindstones only to find out next week that it was a note for $200.

A sucker is a youth who stakes his money on the pasteboards when doesn't know a bob-tail flush from a boiled owl.

A sucker is a farmer who buys his goods from the traveling public when he can buy them of his home merchant for 25 per cent less.

A sucker is a business man who sends his job-work to some snide house out of town, and expects his home party to blow up the town and benefit him as much as his more enterprising neighbor.

A sucker is the kicker who opposes every improvement, and rails at every hustler in town, until some other springs up near him and his property depreciates 95 per cent, and he can't sell it at that to get out of debt until the sheriff helps him out.

A sucker is a smart Alexander at twenty who knows more than his grandfather did at eighty.

The world and the water are full of suckers and the shores are lined with sharks. The current is to advertise for a wife, requesting all who write him to inclose a stamp. Every mail brings him a "wheelbarrow of letters. Of course he does not answer any of them.

A clear manufacturing firm in Trenton, N. J., is attracting the attention of the local world by certain innovations for maintaining order among and holding the attention and increasing the efficiency of the 200 young women cigar-makers employed in its factory. A piano has been placed in the large work room, and a woman employed to play it two hours each day. To keep the girls off the street a teacher has been employed to give free singing lessons at the factory during the noon hour.

According to reports from Washington, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, the stand from which Senator Hanna will give the inaugural parade will be inclosed with glass—a sort of hot-house. Mr. Hanna is a rare and tender flower.

The Congressional Inaugural Committee decided that Senator Hanna will ride in the same carriage with President McKinley in the inaugural parade.

Newspaper Laws.

The following are laws laid down by the United States Government for the protection of newspapers:

If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them till all arrearages are paid.

If the subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they settle their bills and order them discontinued.

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered willing to continue their subscription.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held by law a subscriber.

If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time, if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it on and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.

Publishers of newspapers can, under the law, arrest any man for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law it is a dangerous trick for a man to allow his subscription account to run on from six months to a year and a half unpaid, and then tell the postmaster to mark it "refused," or send to the editor a postal card to discontinue the paper.

Consumption is a germ disease. The germs are everywhere, but they cannot get hold of you unless you get your lungs ready for them by neglecting a cold or failing to properly cure a cough. The important merit of Morley's Honey Pectoral is, that while it cures quickly it cures thoroughly. Ask your druggist.

Alexander Stewart, the boy murderer, whose recent sentence for killing Edward Piesal, a playmate at the House of Refuge in New York, brought tears to the eyes of Judge Furman, was, it is said, a third cousin of the famous merchant, A. T. Stewart. According to Keoper Gossanigher he is the smallest prisoner ever received at Sing Sing.

The Farmers Home Fire Insurance Company, Junction City, Ky., $200,000 strong. Insures all kinds of property except steam mills, hemp and tobacco. Rates reasonable. Insures against Fire, Lightning and Wind. Z. M. STAPLES, County Director. T. A. MURKILL, Agent.

A. N. WELLS, for many years with the Continental General Manager. The daily population of the Mondnock Building, Chicago, is close to 5,000. So vast is the postal business that it was found necessary to establish on the main floor a branch Postoffice with four mail carriers. The Mondnock Building is 40 feet long, 70 feet wide, 16 stories high at one end and 17 at the other, and has 111,111 windows.

Divorces seem to be easy in Indiana.

The report of the board of statistics contains some startling figures in the matter of divorces. For the year ending Oct. 31, it seems there were 27,671 marriages in that State and 4,699 divorces granted. It is estimated that there were 2,000 additional applications for divorces, which were either withdrawn, or for some reason, not granted. The figures show, however, that there was about one divorce for every six marriages.

Had to Conquer or Die.

"I was just about gone," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C. "I had Consumption so bad the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured in seven bottles, and am now stout and well." No Regrets.

Now that the Hanna ship-subsidy bill has again been laid aside by a decisive vote of 45 to 2, with a prospect of increased opposition to the measure during the life of the present Congress, it may safely be asserted that no popular regret will arise.

There is, as a matter of course, a deep-philistinism on the part of Mrs. Hanna and the monopoly syndicate behind this subsidy grab. This is as natural as has been Hanna's repeated loss of temper during the debate on the measure. The administration is pledged to the passage of the ship-subsidy bill and it encourages Hanna that he is prevented from paying the administration's campaign debts.

The American people however are not in favor of this payment. The money would necessarily come out of their pockets—some $180,000,000 in all—it would vastly enrich the subsidy syndicate, but it would do the people no good whatever. They cannot see why they should be thus colossalized because certain multimillionaires put up the money which re-elected Mr. McKinley to the Presidency.

Viewed from the standpoint of the taxpayers of the United States, the present situation of the ship-subsidy bill is gratifying. It will be materially improved if the present Congress now in session shall adjourn sine die with the bill still awaiting action. It will be improved even more if the succeeding Congress shall defeat the bill. For the thing is a subsidy steal, out and out, and would have been defeated long ago if the American Government were not now under the domination of syndicate influences—St. Louis Republic.

A man in Pratt, Kan., was convicted of selling liquor without a license and sentenced to jail. The sheriff, however, permitted the prisoner to remain with his family most of the time and did not lock him up. At the expiration of the prisoner's term the prisoner's wife said to the sheriff for the price of board and lodging for her spouse, although the sheriff was drawing pay from the county for the prisoner's keep. She was awarded $21 but the sheriff has applied to the district judge for a writ of habeas corpus.

1000000 RELIEVED WOMEN

has brought permanent relief to a million suffering women who were on their way to premature graves. Mrs. Mitchell of Cardui performed a wonderful cure of her case. She suffered with the various ailments of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months stopped her vitality until she was a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui. She took it and was cured. Her husband experienced ought to command Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence.

WINE OF CARDUI

is within the reach of all. Women who are afflicted with the various ailments mentioned above, and who have failed to obtain relief from other remedies, should try Wine of Cardui. It has been a great benefactor to many women who have been suffering from the various ailments mentioned above. It has been a great benefactor to many women who have been suffering from the various ailments mentioned above. It has been a great benefactor to many women who have been suffering from the various ailments mentioned above.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary Keltner (nee Coffey) was born in Groep county, Ky., on Dec. 14, 1815.

At the age of 14 she was married to John Keltner and removed to Adair county where she lived until her death, which occurred on the 15th day of Feb., 1901.

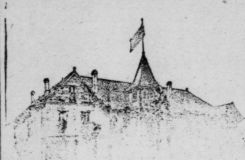

Her husband was born in With county, Va., and at the time of his death lacked only a few days of being 96 years of age.

Mrs. Keltner was the mother of seven children, five of whom died when they were quite small.

At the time of her death she had 48 grandchildren, 147 great grandchildren, and 12 great great grandchildren, making a total of 218, including her own children. "Aunt Polly," as she was familiarly called, was a member of the M. E. Church South, and during her long and eventful life lived a consistent Christian. Her last years were spent at the home of her son, C. L. Keltner, who cared for her as a loving son should. She was near 86 years old, and will be greatly missed.

Arbuckles' famous Roasted Coffee

The low price at which Arbuckles' famous roasted coffee can be sold is made possible by its enormous sale. It should not be classed with the inferior imitations sold at a cent a pound less than Arbuckles'. It has a quality greatly superior to these imitations and makes many more cups of coffee to the pound. No other firm in the world can buy coffee to so good advantage as the producers of Arbuckles' Coffee. No other coffee is cleaned, roasted or blended with such great care and skill. When you buy Arbuckles' you get better quality and greater value than you can get in any other coffee at anywhere near the same price. You also get with each package a definite part in some useful article. Full information with each package. Save the signatures.
